

EDHEC Business School re-accredited by EQUIS

Earns praise for 20 years of international excellence

Paris, 7 April 2015 – The EFMD has renewed EDHEC Business School’s EQUIS accreditation for five years based on a specific audit mechanism reserved for schools that have already been accredited for five years on three consecutive occasions.

“EDHEC’s EQUIS re-accreditation is recognition of 20 years of excellence. More specifically, it testifies to the success of our ‘EDHEC for Business’ strategy, which makes impact on companies, the economy and society a key priority for all of our activities”, said Olivier Oger, Dean of EDHEC Business School, upon confirmation of the EQUIS re-accreditation.

EDHEC for Business: a strategy acclaimed both in France and internationally

EQUIS auditors applauded:

- EDHEC’s distinctive “for Business” approach, which is applied across all the institution’s activities and creates a powerful synergy that benefits the development of both the School and its students.
- EDHEC’s stable leadership and governance, which are crucial factors for the success of the School’s long-term strategy, its financial independence, and the sustainability of its business model (please see key figures below).
- EDHEC’s international presence and reputation, which is underpinned by a multi-campus strategy initiated 20 years ago and the EDHEC-Risk Institute’s worldwide renown.
