Paris, 18 June 2020 – EDHEC Business School is proud to receive the highest level of the Bienvenue en France label awarded by Campus France, the organism reporting to France's Ministry for Europe and Foreign Affairs and Ministry for Higher Education, Research and Innovation.

The School was awarded the three-star Bienvenue en France label for its excellence in welcoming international students on its campuses in Lille, Nice and Paris.

The label applies several criteria focused on the degree of engagement shown by the institution in welcoming international students:

- Quality and accessibility of information
- Welcome and reception procedures
- Support with tuition and the range of programmes
- Accommodation and the quality of life on campus
- Post-graduation support

Commenting on the award, Richard Perrin, International Director, said: "A satisfying student experience and internationalisation are core components of EDHEC's strategy. The label commends the School for the high-quality support we provide to international students (around 35% of those enrolled) on our different campuses and underlines students' high degree of satisfaction with the services we offer, particularly in terms of accommodation, support and welcoming them. Lastly, the quality of EDHEC's campus facilities is also a considerable advantage in attracting the best students from around the world and offering them international-standard conditions for studying."

EDHEC Business School counts over 90 different nationalities among its students. International students are accompanied by the EDHEC International Student Office (ISO), which provides them with real support with administrative, immigration, accommodation and health formalities, and matters relating to their day-to-day lives.

EDHEC Business School received the three-star label for a period of four years, during which time the level awarded to the School will be regularly confirmed or updated by the label's assessors.
